

Workshop with Jo Fitsell

Tuesday, May 11, 2010, 9A.M.-4:00P.M.

Location:

The McKee Building at the Ranch

Directions will be sent to registrants the week before the dates of the workshop.

Bringing Your Work to the Next Level

The purpose of this class is to take time to examine the artistic path you have been on and focus on your own unique self-expression. There is a difference between producing work that is in alignment with a deeper intention and producing it from an over abundance of techniques and methods. Jo will provide a safe environment for critique, self examination and sharing. You will learn from others as much as you will from Jo.

You will receive a challenge to be completed during the workshop time and shared with others. The challenges can range anywhere from spontaneous drawing and creativity exercises to writing, coloring or working with paper. At the end of the day, it is hoped that students will be clearer about their artistic path and direction.

Cost of this workshop is $70 for RMCQ members. To register fill out the coupon below, enclose your check made out to RMCQ for the appropriate amount and mail to Kay Jones.

Workshop Cancellation Policy

Since we contract with speakers months in advance, we are committed to paying for their workshops. Therefore, we will refund your class fee only if you cancel 30 days before the workshop. We will allow you to have someone take your place at the workshop. If we are forced to cancel the class, we will refund prepaid class fees.

You should bring:

- Bring representations or actual pieces that show past endeavors. If you have mostly digital images you can send them to Jo before the class. Come ready to talk about your work.
- Do a little review of your work before you come. Take notes on things you notice about your work and your thoughts about directions you want to drop and others you want to pursue. Identify work you think if successful as well as places where you are stalled.
- Bring pictures, sketches, images or even things that inspire you now. This may include pictures of other artists, magazine pictures, or photos.
- Bring an unlined pad of paper and a pencil to take notes and use for the challenges. You can also bring colored pencils or pens if you like to sketch.
- You can bring your own lunch or take advantage of near by restaurants. There will be bottles water available.

If there is anything you do not understand about these directions, please feel free to email fitsell@hotmail.com or call 720-257-2780.
